

Alcohol Screening, Brief Intervention & Referral To Treatment

Help Stop Alcohol-related Injuries; Join ENA's New SBIRT Initiative

Fifty percent of traumas seen in U.S. emergency departments are alcohol-related. You can lead the way to help reduce alcohol consumption and repeat visits to the emergency department. By joining the ENA SBIRT Mentorship Project, you will become a national leader for implementation of alcohol screening and brief intervention in emergency departments.

How will you, your hospital, and your patients benefit? SBIRT leaders...

- Help facilitate and promote SBIRT implementation in their emergency departments
- Assist patients with making decisions to reduce their risk of alcohol-related injury and illness
- Facilitate a hospital's ability to obtain reimbursement for SBIRT implementation and comply with the 2012 Joint Commission proposed standards for screening and brief intervention in emergency departments
- Earn five contact hours by participating in a series of five Web seminars on SBIRT implementation
- Gain access to a mentor-facilitated social network to guide evidence-based practice, provide online tools, and share expertise
